

Delaware Grown Cool Weather Recipes

Looking for ways to keep the family eating healthy during those cold winter months? Or maybe you want to stay active and healthy, but the cold weather has got you down. Don't worry, we've created a list of our favorite Delaware Grown winter recipes to warm your soul and your belly.

Butternut Squash Soup

This sweet and savory soup will change your view on butternut squash and is the perfect warm you up appetizer.

Sweet Potato Biscuits

Nothing completes dinner like a warm buttery biscuit but when you add in those sweet potatoes and top it with honey, it's like dessert for dinner.

Stuffed Acorn Squash

Skip the bowl – Get in the mood for fall with this all in one autumn recipe.

Minestrone Soup

Warm & tasty our Minestrone Soup is tradition mixed with local and everything you'll love.

Turnip Casserole

Don't run, it's an amazing dish with a cheesy zest you'll want to try.

Strawberry Rhubarb Pie

It's time to dig out those local strawberries you froze over summer and surprise your holiday party guest with this twist on a classic strawberry pie.

Honoring Traditions and Discovering New

My family, like many families, enjoy the tradition of spending Thanksgiving Day together feasting on turkey, sweet potato casserole, and many other classic holiday dishes until we are too full to eat another bite. It's not often that family gathers together, so our family utilizes every moment over the holiday weekend. Instead of spending time in large stores fighting the lines on Black Friday, we spend the day together tagging our live Christmas tree. Something is exhilarating about a cool fall day on a Christmas Tree Farm. Local Delaware Christmas Tree farms, big and small, hold a story steeped in tradition that has become part of the memories for so many families here in Delaware and surrounding states. As you embark on your yearly trip to find the perfect live tree, please stop in the shop and check out their custom holiday-inspired ornaments or gifts. Don't forget to grab some apple cider or hot chocolate before you venture through the farms.